This attractive, end terrace period cottage is located in the heart of this popular village and offers deceptive accommodation over two floors. A timber gate from the drive leads to the side door, taking you straight into the modern kitchen, with an inner hallway from here providing utility space, with the stunning ground floor shower room beside. A doorway from here leads to the lounge/dining space to the front, with wood burning stove and brick surround and rarely used front door to the main road with double glazed window beside with fitted blinds. A staircase from the hallway takes you to the open plan first floor landing, which provides a useful study or additional guest bedroom space, with the main bedroom to the front. The landing also provides access, with a fitted folding ladder to a fully boarded loft space, with power and light and window providing natural light.
